History:

This list was prepared by Mr. Lloyd L. Rugen on Oct 16, 1968. There are 105 graves listed with names and dates; twenty three graves listed with only 1917; twenty more marked graves (without dates); and a number of unmarked graves. This cemetery was also canvassed by Katherine Larson and Fannie Edgell on 05 Jun 1961 for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Any differences between LDS list and the Rugen list are highlighted in blue. Additions from the Cooper County Record of Deaths are given in red.

William D. Gooch left Albemarle County, Virginia for Ohio in 1824. He and his family left Ohio for Missouri in 1830. They settled in Saline Township, Cooper County, Missouri where he erected a mill on the Petite Saline Creek. The mill bore his name and was the nucleus around which the town of Gooch's Mill developed. The mill derived its motive power from the water course.

Lewis Eager, a native of Louisa County, Virginia, came to Cooper County in the pioneer days. He was a mill wright and after the death of Mr. Gooch, Lewis became the proprietor of the mill and converted it to steam power. He operated it for some years.

This land is recorded in the Cooper County, Missouri Records Book G, Page 125.
