

Circuit Court Naturalization Records of Cooper County, Missouri 1824 - 1906

These records cover the years 1824 through 1906. And were covered by the Congressional Act of 29 Jan 1795 and the myriad of minor changes up until 27 Sep 1906. Simply stated any free white male over the age of 21 could apply to become a citizen. This was a two step process in which the alien had to first declare in court their intention to become citizens and renounce their allegiance to any foreign rulers. These "intention" or "first" papers are often a great source of information as the aliens would generally take these papers out at the first place they lived. The residency requirements mandated that the alien live in the United States for at least five years with one year being in the state in which the "final" application was made. The final application was a petition for admission to citizenship and was often known as the "second" papers. The final application was generally made before a local court in which the applicant had to prove that he was of good moral character; which was generally done by bringing witnesses to court. In Cooper County the declarations were made in the Cooper County Circuit Court. It should be noted that many immigrants never applied for citizenship or start the process by declaring their intentions but never completing the process.
