

mother of O. C. Day, of Pilot Grove, and John Day, of Woodward, I. T. Mrs. Day was born March 31, 1824. The funeral services were held Thursday, and the remains were interred in the Pilot Grove cemetery.

—While in Columbia last week, C. G. Miller was requested by H. J. Waters, dean of the agricultural college, to ship him some Langshan chickens, that their points might be exhibited to the students. Mr. Miller sent a cock and hen Wednesday. His reputation as a breeder of Black Langshans is widespread, and the compliment from the dean of the college is much appreciated.

—Milo Hurt, aged about 34 years, died of typhoid fever, at Springfield, Monday, where he was employed as foreman of a linemen gang. The remains were shipped to Boonville Tuesday and thence to Bunceton. The funeral services were held at Mt. Hermon church Wednesday morning. Deceased was unmarried and leaves only his mother, Mrs. Harriet S. Hurt, of near Washington schoolhouse.

—Mrs. Clarence Cordry, of Pilot Grove, died Sunday of last week and the funeral services were held Monday, Rev. B. G. Tutt, of Bunceton, officiating. She was married about two years ago, and leaves an infant but a few days old. Mrs. Cordry was Miss Linna Leonard, daughter of Mrs. Buchanan, wife of the late A. Buchanan, of Boonville. She will be well remembered here, where she attended school.
