—Col. L. D. Drake, superintendent of the Missouri Training School for Boys, and Walter Williams, of Columbia, are among the delegates appointed from Missouri to attend the national conference of charities and corrections, to be held in Atlanta, Ga., May 6th to 12th.

—Walton Trigg spent a few hours Monday with his father, W. W. Trigg. He is traveling for jewelry manufactories in Connecticut, and until this season made trips to the Pacific coast. He has an office in Kansas City, and at his request his territory has been curtailed to give him more time at home.

—Chas. E. Hirlinger and W. J. Hirlinger returned Saturday from a trip to St. Louis and Chicago, where the former bought a large stock of fancy chinaware and bric-a-brac for Hirlinger's book and stationery store. They spent several days with their uncle in Indianapolis, Ind., and had a most enjoyable trip.

—Hon. E. C. Crow writes from Jefferson City requesting THE ADVERTISER sent to Mrs. Crow, at 4549 Magnolia avenue, St. Louis, which has been the family residence for several months. Mrs. Crow was formerly Miss Gussie Hanna, and was born and reared in Boonville, where she has many warm friends.

→ —Dr. W. H. Rees, the electro-magnetic tooth-extractor, closes a successful engagement of several days in Boonville Saturday. Dr. Rees has a large clientele here, by whom his occasional visits are anxiously looked forward to. His headquarters are now in Columbia.
