DANIEL BARTLETT DEAD.

Born Near Boonville 110 Years Ago

Wife Survives.

Daniel Bartlett, said to be the oldest man in Missouri, died of senile debility at his home in Sedalia early Tuesday morning, at the extreme old age of 110 years, 2 months and 6 days.

Mr. Bartlett was born near Boonville on January 11, 1801, and was the son of William Bartlett who came here from Virginia. For the past quarter of a century he lived in Sedalia. He is survived by his widow, now 100 years old, and to whom he was married in Camden county in 1827, eighty-four years ago, when his bride was 16 years of age. Five children of the eleven born to the union are yet alive, all men, three of whom reside in Sedalia, one in Kansas City and one at Collins, Colorado.

The greatest portion of Mr. Bartlett's life was spent in Boonville and vicinity. He is well remembered here by many of the citizens. He was a veteran of two wars, serving in the Mexican war and the War of the Rebellion. He led an outdoor life and to this he attributed to a great degree his longevity.
