

JOHN MADDEX DIES

John Maddex, aged about seventy-three years, died at his home in Bell Air Saturday of last week, where short funeral services were held on Monday, after which the remains were taken to Pilot Grove for burial. Mr. Maddex leaves a wife and four children surviving. He was a native of Virginia but came to Missouri while a young man. He had been in bad health for several years.