

Marshall Weekly Democrat News
6 July 1922

S. J. LAND DIES

Aged Man Passes Away at the Home of His Son, James R. Land Near Napton.

S. J. Land, 85 years old, died at the home of his son, James R. Land near Napton, at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. The death was the result of age and general debility.

Mr. Land had lived in the Napton neighborhood for about twenty years. In addition to the son with whom he has been making his home, the deceased is survived by three daughters. His wife died about thirty-five years ago.

S. J. Land, 85 years old, died at the home of his son, James R. Land near Napton, at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. The death was the result of age and general debility.

Mr. Land had lived in the Napton neighborhood for about twenty years. In addition to the son with whom he has been making his home, the deceased is survived by three daughters. His wife died about thirty-five years ago.