R. G. ANTHONY DIED SUNDAY.*One of Callaway's Oldest Residents Passed Away at Home of Daughter at Boydsville.

Robert G. Anthony, 91 years old, died Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Tackett, with whom he lived. Mr. Anthony had had several paralytic strokes during the summer, the most recent one, which occurred last week, causing his death. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Boydsville Christian church, and burial was in the cemetery of that church.

Mr. Anthony was born in Independence, Mo., and went from there to Boone county, where he lived for a number of years. He came to Callaway about fifty years ago, and until recently was one of the large landowners of the county. After selling his farm a few years ago he went to live with his daughter. He was in the best of health and very active up to a year ago, and frequently came to Fulton on horseback. Since suffering with paralysis, though, he often expressed a desire for the end to come.

Mr. Anthony was twice married, his first wife dying about fifty years ago. His second wife, who was Miss Banks Moore, died about fifteen years ago. He is survived by two sons and two daughters: L. J. Anthony, north of Boydsville; J. T. Anthony, west of Boydsville; Mrs. S. S. Price, Woodlandville, Boone county, and Mrs. Tackett. Roy C. Anthony, of Fulton, county collector, is a grandson. Twenty-two grandchildren, seven great grandchildren and one great, great grandchild also are living.

Mr. Anthony had been a member of the Carrington Baptist church for many years, and was held in high esteem by his friends in the Boydsville community. Sympathy is extended to all those to whom his death brings sorrow.
