FOUND DEAD IN BED

Mrs. Joe Elliott, Pilot Grove, Lived Alone

Mrs. Joe Elliott, Pilot Grove, was found dead in bed Tuesday morning at her home there, where she lived alone.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. S. P. Cayton, pastor of the Methodist church, with interment in the Pilot Grove cemetery.

Ida May Lane was born in Dixonburg, Pa., February 22, 1856. She married Joseph Elliott in Pennsylvania August 10, 1878, and in 1882 they moved to Beaman, Pettis county, later moving to Sedalia, and 30 years ago coming to Pilot Grove, where Mr. Elliott engaged in the undertaking business. He died two years ago. Mrs. Elliott was a member of the Pilot Grove Methodist church and lived a consistent christian life and was ready when death came.

She is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Smith Rissler and Mrs. John McFarland, Sedalia; Mrs. Riley Yeager and Mrs. Alva Baker, Beaman; a half-brother, A. D. Lane, of Sedalia, and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Eva May Lafferty, of China.

She united with the Concord Baptist church at the age of thirteen and lived a christian life. On the day of her death she realized death was near and expressed her willingness to die and made most of her funeral arrangements.

Besides her parents she leaves to mourn their loss five sisters, Mrs. George Bryan, of Raton, N. M.; Mrs. Chas. Carey, Mrs. Thurman Carey, Mrs. Geo. Watson and Mrs. Leonard Childs, of Speed, and other relatives and friends.
