Gustin Creamery To New Location

Announcement is made Monday Harold O. Gustin has purchased the Boonville Creamery from O. J. Gustin. The equipment has been moved to the former Advertiser building on Morgan street.

The business will be known in the future as the Cooper County Creamery, Harold O. Gustin, proprietor. He will deal in wholesale only.

Gilbert Haller, located in the front of the building where the Gustin creamery has been located, will maintain a cold storage plant there. O. J. Gustin, father of Harold O. Gustin, has retired from the creamery business.
