

29 Sep 1950

2/2

Mrs. O. L. Cook of Chilhowee Died Here

Funeral Was Held Sunday
At the Chilhowee Baptist
Church—Burial Was Here

Mrs. O. L. Cook, a resident of Chilhowee for thirty years, died early Saturday morning, September 23, at the Warrensburg Hospital and Clinic, Inc., where she was a patient for one day. Mrs. Cook had been in failing health for some time but was seriously ill for only a short time. Her death occurred at 12:30 a. m.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Baptist Church in Chilhowee, with the pastor, the Rev. Marshall Burroughs, officiating. Mrs. J. G. McReynolds and Miss Lettie Turner, accompanied by Mrs. A. C. Turner, sang "In the Garden" and "Face to Face." "Going Down the Mrs. Edgar Atkins, who was also accompanied by Mrs. Turner.

Burial was in Sunset Hill cemetery. Pallbearers were Alfred Polzin, Prof. S. G. Welch, Marion Donk, Elmer Orr, Roy Robinson, and Gene Marksberry.

Mrs. Cook, the former Lettie Mae Lewis, was born in Cooper county, December 17, 1883. She was the daughter of John Will and Sarah Jane Spillers Lewis, prominent residents of the county. She was married to the late O. L. Cook in 1915. They moved from Bunceton, Mo., to Chilhowee 30 years ago. To them was born one son, J. W., of the home. Mr. Cook died in 1942. Since her husband's death, Mrs. Cook had been associated with her son in the Cook Funeral Home at Chilhowee.

She was a member of the Baptist Church at Chilhowee.

In addition to her son and his wife of the home, Mrs. Cook is survived by one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Nelson Betteridge, Bunceton, Mo.; Elza Lewis, Independence, Mo.; and Emmett Lewis of Bunceton.