Had 650 in Camp At Thunderbird

The new Camp Thunderbird of the Great Rivers Council, Boy Scouts of America has completed its first summer season with an excellent attendance of 650 boys and leaders. Forty five of the council's 75 units were represented.

The newness of the camp and the new type of camping offered held down attendance of some of the newer units. Camping was done in tents with each Troop doing it's own cooking. Some units had not had experience in cooking. For 1961 the camp plans on having cooking counsellors to assist new units in how to prepare meals.

The swimming, boating canoeing, riflery, moskeet shooting, conservation, wild life management, pioneering and camping were carried out under expert guidance.

The health and safety of the camp was excellent without a single serious or near serious accident or sickness in camp for the entire summer.
